PUBLISHERS AND PROPRIETORS. SATURDAY, JULY 13, 1877.

One African Brother Who has Found Himself Able to Com-pete With the White Man. The return of Cadet Henry Flipper to his home at Atlanta, Georgia, was the occasion of much rejoicing among his friends. He has been appointed Second Lieutenant of the Tenth Cavalry, a colored regiment on the Texas frontier, and will proceed to join his Company at the close of his present furlough. His career in the Military Academy at West Point is said to have been the roughest experience that any Cadet has undergone; but his patience, good sense and pluck have conquered and shown him worthy of the honors he has won, which he wears with nncommon dignity.

Lieut. Flipper was born at Thomasville, Thomas county, Ga., March 21st, 1856, and is now past 21 years of age. He R. H. Lackey, a Methodist Minister of Thomasville. His father was the slave of Mr. E. G. Tender, who afterwards bought Henry and his mother and moved with them to Atlanta. During bank or a life insurance company. Some the last nine months of the war, Henry's father and himself lived as refugees at Macon, but after this returned again to Atlanta. The lad received some instruction there from the wife of an ex-Confederate officer. In 1866 he attended the mission school. In 1867-8 he attended the Storr's Public School, and in '69 he entered the Atlanta University, will get nothing. which is partly supported by the State. He remained in this institution until his appointment to West Point by Congressman Freeman. It is stated that while there, despite the antagonism of the preheld his own under the most trying tests and the most severe examinations, concocted with the evident intention to "freeze him out." He was, however found prepared for these issues, and came through with success. The Southern placency, and are inclined to give him

The Seriousness of the Tramp Question.

The meetings which are being held throughout the country to take measures towards a solution of the tramp question are significant as showing that public looked upon as a nuisance is now considered to be a formidable evil. Those who live in cities can form no adequate idea, except from report, of the extent to which suburban and country life has not only been invaded but rendered dangerous by the presence of that army of prowling vagrants which seems to have overrun the whole continent. Property has depreciated, many sections are completely terrorized, and neither women nor children are safe from insult and outrage. Formerly life in the country was considered one of the sweetest of all pleasures. Pleasant homes were reared and valuable improvements made by business men, who left for the city each morning, knowing that their families were free from danger and could enjoy their retirement in peace. But the most crowded part of the city is now comparatively safer than the country, as besides the security of numbers there are officers around whose business it is to protect property and repress disorder. o such safe-guards for lonely women and children in those places which tramps frequent. Rural policemen are unable to cope with them, and as soon as the men leave their homes for the field or the city they sally forth, unfragrant and vicious, ready to commit any and every crime. The demonstration at Byrn Mawr, Pennsylvania, a few days ago, which was attended by citizens of Chester, Delaware and Montgomery counties, showed a determination to make a practical move in the matter and have the vagrant law strictly enforced. Every State and county should co-operate and lend its aid towards ridding us of those or the city they sally forth, unfragrant

tured woslen goods in general, while the quantity of woolen carpets sent to the United States for a market in the latter | 000 pounds of wool for 47 cents per period is less than half as large as in

In general, the manufactured products of Great Britain, which come into com-petition with home production, show a marked decline in the latter period. On the other hand the quantity of raw materials used by us during January and February of the present year is generally in excess of that of 1876. This is particularly true of wools, the report for the past two months being six times greater than a year earlier. The Chicago Journal of Commerce regards these as sure indications that our people are using home-made fabrics instead of foreign, while the increased consumption of raw materials would show a corresponding increase in the production of goods in this country.

In addition to this, the Governmen Bureau of Statistics has prepared a statement showing the exports of cotton manufactures from the United States during the month of May, 1877, and for the six months ended, the same compared with corresponding periods of 1876. The exports of cotton goods during the eleven months ending May 31, 1877 were 67, 318,647 yards, valued at $4,939,618, as against 44,729,465 yards, valued at $3,729,316 in 1876. Other cotton goods, to the value of $647,962, were also exported during the six months ended May 31, 1877, as compared with $435,383 in 1876. This, altogether, is an encouraging showing, and with the heavy crops of cereals likely to be realized this year, the balance of trade for the current year ought to be largely in our favor.

Business Notes.

The sale of city sixes up to date is $77,000, and gradually increasing.

In reviewing the last half year's busi-ness of Pittsburgh, the Commercial speaks cheerfully of trade prospects. The shipments of coal by river from Pittsburgh during the last six months makes the largest total of any similar length of time in the history of the coal trade.

In searching for new objects of taxaion the growing crops have been subjected to tax in California, this process causing a great outery among the people. In ome counties the crops have been assessed as high as five and six dollars an acre. while in others the assessment is merely nominal. In a few counties the assessors yielding to the popular feeling, are reported as entirely disregarding the instructions ordering the assessment.

The Directors of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, at their monthly meeting on Wednesday, adopted resolutions ordering a reduction of ten per cent on the present compensation of all officers and employes in the service of the company where the amount received exceeds one dollar per day. The company state that this action has been taken on account of the general business depreswas born a slave, the property of Rev. sion existing throughout the country, which has seriously affected the earnings of all railway companies.

days we have none, but on others we have two or more, and so the average keeps up. These failing institutions are all wrecks left by the panic of 1873, but not before discovered; and the stereotyped accounts concerning the banks and savings institutions is that the depositors will be paid, but that the stockholders

date for Govenor of Virginia, has written a letter regarding the debt of that valent aristocracy of that institution, he State, which contains some interesting facts and suggestions. General Mahon says that the debt intended to be assumed by the funding bill of 1871 as $30,000,000 amounts, in fact, to $36,000,000, with arrearages of interest, &c., amounting to $5,100,000, making the State debt at prespapers speak of him with no little com- ent $41,000,000, an increase (by reason of the non-payment of interest on that portion which is not funded) $360,000 per annum since the fund-ing Zbill passed. He further says that, accepting the Auditor's estimate of total revenues as $2,700,000, when the average revenue for the past six years has been only $2,338,000, and accepting feeling has at last been aroused in the matter, and that what at first was only the Government, and taking the approthe Government, and taking the appro-priation for the schools at $443,000 (the Auditor's figures,) there will be left $1,-270,000 to meet an interest account of $2,-160,000. If the interest due on account still to be received. A dispatch to the New York Times gives this summary of the receipts for the fiscal year just closed, compared with the receipts of the preceeding fiscal year:

lend its aid towards ridding us of those make a very favorable exhibit. The total lend its aid towards ridding us of those professional thieves who seem to have abandoned the slums and alleys of the citier, and who are plying their trade on roads and lanes which ought to be safe from their unwelcome presence.

An Encouraging Showing.

The official statistics of the British Government, showing the amount of exports to the United States for January and February, 1877, as compared with corresponding months of 1876, indicats a falling off of one-third in the quantity of cotton and linen fabrics sent to this country. This is true also of manufactured readen media in measured in the amount paid for interest on the public debt be added. Thus it will be seen that while the receipts show a falling off of one-third in the quantity of cotton and linen fabrics sent to this country. This is true also of manufactured readen media in measure half the variable and the samount paid for interest on the public debt.

Wool News.

C. H. Beall, of Brooke county, sold 14,pound.

Mr.S. Horkheimer, of this city, estimates that the amount of wool remaining unsold in Brooke and Washington counties does not exceed 25 per cent of

Mr. W. T. Wood, living a short dis-ance west of town, received 60 cents per cound for his clip of wool, of over 100 lecces.—Smithfield Independent.

The Pittsburgh Commercial of yesterday thus alludes to the wool market:

thus alludes to the wool market:

The activity in the wool market, noted in our last report has almost subsided, owing to the determined views of wool growers. Whilst wool could be purchased at 40c, buyers left it was a reasonable price, and when prices advanced to 45c, it was felt that only the most desirable selections were safe at this price, and nothing in the woolen goods market present or prospective, to warrant such a figure. But since many growers refuse to accept 45c, and are determined to have 50, they are simply to "kill the goose that lays the golden egg,"—45c, is high, anything above 45c, is sure to make a loss anything above 15c, is sure to make a los to both dealers and manufacturers."

They would destroy this government with perfect non-halence, and then laugh at its defenders for their pains. We must light them with every nerve and every energy and victory will crown our efforts.

The condition of the country is not

The condition of the country is not much better if any than last year. But it appears to be on the safe side, in spite of the many enemies which beset it on all sides. It is a wonder that this country had not succumbed to the pressure in the recent severe ordeal through which it has passed.

The Turko-Russian war is still in the The Turko-Russian war is still in the lurch. But the former seems to be getting the best of the bargain, by beating them in many battles, and sustaining none of their heavy losses. Thousands and tens of thousands have been killed and wounded in this war, and it is still going on with the same slaughter and havoc.

Agitation is researched in each case.

Agitation is prevalent in most every part of the State about the Capital again. Some of the most ridiculous places imagi-nable are suggested. But we venture to assert that no better place can be found than where it is. Why keep up this furs about the Capital when we have one al-ready.

Opposition to the energies of all busi-ness men is terriffic. Nearly every one is crushed out by trifles apparently, but these little things hold the sovereign reins, and are what make up all there is in existence. It is these that sway the universe itself and rendereth the condi-tion of things where the whong double tion of things where the whang doodle mourneth for its first born.

The Insignificance of the Earth and all Who dwell thereon as Compared with the Universe.

Dr. Drept.

In denouncing the Copernican system as being in contradiction to Reveleations, the ecclesiastical authorities were doubtless very deeply moved by inferential considerations. To dethrone the earth from the central dominating position, to give her many equais and not a few superiors, seemed to diminish her claims upon the Divine regard. If each of the countless myriads of stars was a sun, surrounded by revolving globes, peopled with responsible beings like ourselves, if we had fallen so easily and had been redeemed at so stupendons a price as the death of the Son of God, how was it with them? Of them were there none who had fallen or might fall like us? Where, then, for them could a Savior be found?
